

I am writing to comment on the proposed federal law that would preempted state laws regarding telephone solicitation. The proposed law is very weak and will do nothing to protect my rights to privacy and unsolicited calls. As of now, after being a member of the Indiana's no call list I have received no calls that I had not solicited. Please understand, having a telephone is not a right but a privilege...a privilege that I pay for expecting to control as I choose including having my telephone used for my private use only, not a mass media marketing tool.
